

European Endodontic Journal: A Reflection on Current Achievements and Appreciation to Editors and Reviewers

Ismail Davut Capar, Hany Mohamed Aly Ahmed

With beginning of the year 2019, the editorial board members of the European Endodontic Journal (EEJ) celebrate for the fourth year of publication. We also celebrate for a new achievement since the EEJ is now indexed in "SCOPUS", and it is also indexed in Web of Science (ESCI) since last year. For this year, the EEJ has received 88 submissions and has published 30 articles (Figure 1). The 2018 issues presented a wide range of high quality articles including clinical studies, experimental investigations in addition to systematic reviews and others that were accessed more than 11.756 times.

We wish all EEJ readers a "Happy New Year". The year is once again starting off at speed, and we will try our best to bring you the best work in the coming issues!

The Editor-in-Chief and Deputy Editor-in-Chief would like to welcome a new associate editor – Prof. Dr. Salvatore Sauro. He is currently a professor in Dental Biomaterials at the University CEU Cardinal Herrera of Valencia. Professor Sauro is also honorary senior lecturer of Biomaterials and Tissue Engineering, King's College London Dental Institute at Guy's Hospital, London (UK) and Visiting Professor, Federal University of Ceará, School of Dentistry, Fortaleza, Brazil. He has been working in dental biomaterials, preventive and minimally invasive dentistry research for 15 years, and has published more than 100 articles in international peer-review journals, more than 150 abstracts of research in international conferences, two international patents and 3 chapters in scientific books. He also is an editorial board member in several international dental journals.

We would like to take this opportunity to thank the associate editors (Flávio Alves, Frédéric Bukiet, Till Dammaschke, Velayutham Gopikrishna, James Leo Gutmann, Hyeon Cheol Kim, Ahmad Madarati, Jukka P. Matinlinna, Montse Mercadé, Gianluca Plotino, Mohammad Ali Saghiri, Gianrico Spagnuolo, Hüseyin Sinan Topçuoğlu, Laurence Walsh) for their valuable contributions in 2018.

We would also like to acknowledge and thank the following referees for their critical appraisal of papers received in 2018:
